

Morphine

As you hold your face
Heavy in your hands
As you weigh it all up
And begin to understand
As the process accelerates
And you shift down again
As your system is compromised
You get ready to crash

It comes on slowly
From the base of your spine
Only mildly intense
And the same every time
Indifferent by the feeling
And lost inside
It comes on all friendly

Now that you've gambled away
The fate held in your hands
Well it didn't cost much
Only about twenty grand
There is no consequence
And hopefully no contraband
And the process accelerates
As you shift down again
All systems are compromised
Where did you put that stash?

It comes on slowly
From the base of your spine
Only mildly intense
And the same every time
Lost inside this feeling
And motionless in mind
It comes on so friendly

Well you've dropped the fate
That you held in your arms
You weighed it all up
And didn't see the harm
That the bliss and the fall
Was all part of the charm
And the process accelerates
As you shift down again
It may be far too late
You are about to crash

Stars

I look into your eyes
They tell me your secrets
Deep green doorways
Into your world
I look beyond your soul
Far beyond your eyes
Through looking glass windows
And one million lives
I sense your smile rising
Feel your heart pounding
Silhouettes dancing
Essence of life
Falling through time
Through time and space
I fall from your grace
And only one thing remains

Everything changes
I watch as it falls
Slips through my fingers
And fades from me
My phoenix from fire
My moths to the flame
All fuel is exhausted
And nothing is the same

In your eyes tonight - stars - shine
In your eyes angel - stars - shine

Running through fields
I see ghost images
I've lost my horizon
And found dark reflections
My heart isn't beating
I can't feel my feet
My body is weighted
Hollow and deep
Souls to the flame
Our lives to the fire
Burning all reason
And our desires

In your eyes tonight - stars - shine
In your eyes angel - stars - shine

In your eyes tonight angel - stars - shine
The stars in your eyes - shine

Neverland

Have you ever wanted?
To be forever
Numb from the mind down and floating away
Have you desired, desired?
Eternal bliss, eternal bliss
Have you been so high?
Felt your heart pounding

You'll never see the lights shine in your lover's eye
You'll never feel the sun
burn you when you fly You'll never hear the sea calling out alright
You'll never be with me.
You'll never be

Have you ever wanted?
To sleep forever
With your senses on fire, on fire and burning you inside
Do you really want it?
A slow death and a slow fall
Please think about it?
No more sunrise

warm your pretty face You'll never wake up again in this beautiful place
You'll never be with me again.
You'll never be
You won't be with anyone and you may be free...

Never, ever, never again

Sound and Fury

It gives you the power and will
And the courage to really feel That your struggle will finally be Favoured with chivalry
So pray to the powers that are Take you to the brightest star
To arrive where you're meant to be
With grace and pride and honesty

Feel the fury - shake the ground
Rock your world & knock you down
Feel the fury - it's all around you
He closes in the god of sound

With sword, armour and shield
The greatest weapon you can wield
Is the fire you have inside
To do what you know is right
Hold it high and hold it proud
Charge into this darkest hour
Cut it true and down to size
Look you fear straight in the eyes

Feel the fury - shake the ground
Rock your world & knock you down
Feel the fury - it's all around you

Your fight is won
But the battle's just begun
And the conflict will finally be Favoured with victory
So pray to the powers of five
Keep you moving and alive
Where you're destined to be
With grace and pride and integrity

Feel the fury - shake the ground
Rock your world & knock you down
Feel the fury - it's all around you

Sentiment

Do you remember that time?
We stayed up all night
And shared with each other
Our flesh and our minds
Do you remember how amazing

How amazing it felt
And the smell on the sheets
We rolled throughout
Do you remember the look?
The look on my face
As I stared into you
And the promises we made
We made it feel safe
Feel safe and feel right
Do you remember that time?
Remember that night

Memories will lead you where you need to go
Don't let them take over and never, ever let them go

I'm so thrilled you remember
And reflect on these times
They will always be with you
Startling your mind
For if we forget
The beauty of it all
There would be no point
In love, passion and soul
And if we forget
To let go of past pain
Bruised hearts won't heal
To start all over again
I'm so happy you remember
Remember it all
Let the memories wash over Wash over it all

It's time to let it all go now
Falling down to the ground
Push it down underground
This won't hurt I promise you
Before it comes crashing down
Let it sink, let it drown
Let your fate wash over you

I remember that time
Our skin and our minds

I remember how amazing
And the smell on your sheets
We rolled all about
I remember the look
The look on your face
As I stared into you
And the promises we made
I remember that time
And remember that night...

A little song for you

Here's a little song
to remember me by
Dry your eyes baby
please don't cry
I've got to go now
I've got to fly
This is it baby - this is goodbye
Keep this little song
Hold it close to you and deep inside
With you so lovely
I had a great time
In your heart I found the counterpart to mine

Here's a little song
I know you did try
You've got to go now you've got to fly
So take this song with you and say goodbye Say you'll always love me and cherish the time
We spent together when we were blind Always a wish away the binding of lives
So I wrote this little song to remember it by...
